

SENIOR PLAY TO BE GIVEN NEXT MONTH

To Be "The Butter and Egg Man"

CAST SELECTED

Rehearsals for "The Butter and Egg Man," the Senior class play, are now under way. The mighty machinery behind the play has begun to operate, and presently, about April 17, the finished product will be presented for the students' entertainment.

A few years ago in a night club in the south, as a young man from a small middle-western town entered the door, Texas Guinan yelled, "Butter and Egg Man." The phrase was accepted in modern parlance, and in 1925 was capitalised in George Kaufman's play by the same name.

This play, by one of America's leading dramatists, was produced for the first time in 1926 and played for one hundred and twenty weeks on Broadway. It was the most successful play produced at that time.

The plot concerns a seemingly simple youth from Chillicothe, Ohio, who goes to New York to seek his fortune, and is persuaded to invest his money in a show. In spite of constantly arising difficulties, he beats the quack producers at their own game, and departs with their secretary for Chillicothe.

The plot clicks throughout and the lines sparkle with effervescent, scintillating humor. This play should provide the most hilarious entertainment of any dramatic attempt of recent years.

Tryouts for parts in the play were held last Friday in the gymnasium, and Mrs. Baumelster assigned the parts. "There was an unusual amount of talent to choose from," said Mrs. Baumelster, "and in some cases decisions were very difficult."

The cast is as follows: Peter Jones, Fred Wides; Jane Weston, Hope Welburn; Joe Lehman, Russell Baker; Fanny Lehman, Rose Weber; Jack McClure, N. K. Werner; Mary Martin, Patricia Murphy; Cecil Benham, Charles Gardner; Peggy Marlow, Maxine Munt; and Oscar Fritchle, Robert Vierling. There are four parts as yet unassigned.

The properties, lights, and so forth will be under student management, with Miss Evelyn McDonald acting as assistant director, Hugh Hanks has charge of the advertising.

FOUR SENIORS TEACHING IN OMAHA HIGH SCHOOLS

Through the cooperation of the Omaha high schools four seniors are doing practice teaching under the direction of Prof. L. G. Taylor. This includes a five period week for the entire semester.

The students doing practice teaching are Ardith Couffer, in history, under Miss Duras at South High; Evelyn Kase, in medieval history, under Miss Yon, at South High; Don Marshall, in Modern Problems, under Miss Phillips at North High; and John Roberts in bookkeeping under Mr. G. P. Roberts at North High.

Recent Survey Made

Recent data compiled by Miss Ward show that out of the total number of students registered in the various chemistry courses 77.2 per cent are preparing to study medicine, 22.8 per cent are taking chemistry in preparation for engineering courses, 10.0 per cent are engaged in the study to meet degree requirements, 11.0 per cent are making in chemistry in preparation for a career in some phase of chemistry, 5.4 per cent are making chemistry a part of a home economics course, and the remaining 5.6 per cent are studying chemistry preparatory to teaching in high school.

Rules for Election

The annual election for Gala Day Queen, chairman of the Central Committee, class representatives to the Central Committee, and attendants to the Queen, will be held tomorrow.

Rules for the election are as follows:

1. All regular and special students will be allowed to vote for Queen and Chairman of the Central Committee.
2. Regular students will be allowed to vote for one attendant to the queen and one representative to the Central Committee of the class of which they are a member.
3. Each student should verify registration in the poll book by signing opposite his name.
4. Each person shall vote secretly.
5. Hand folded ballot to the judge.
6. Each ballot must be signed in ink by two judges.
7. Electioneering shall be forbidden within the polling place.

Place of election will be announced today on bulletin board.

ELMA GOVE, '31, MARRIES ON PARENTS' ANNIVERSARY

Miss Elma Gove, '31, was married to Harry Burke White, '30, Wednesday, March 4. The wedding took place on the thirtieth anniversary of that of the bride's parents, at their home.

Rev. George W. White, brother of the groom and also of the class of '30, read the marriage lines. Miss Irene Fitch was maid of honor, and Oliver Hasselblad, '31, best man.

Mr. and Mrs. White went to Lyons. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. White went to Lyons, Neb., where Mr. White is teaching. After a brief stay in Lincoln, Mrs. White returned to complete the semester's studies.

Mrs. White is prominent in school affairs, active in the Y. W. C. A. work, and is president of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity. Mr. White is a member of the Alpha Kappa Delta, honorary sociological fraternity. He was class president during his senior year at the University.

Miss Anderson Presents Pupils in Voice Recital

Miss Johanna Anderson, voice teacher of the Conservatory staff, will present a number of her pupils in a recital in Jacob's Hall Auditorium, Tuesday evening, March 31. The public is cordially invited.

The following students will sing solos: Meriam Almer, Muriel Eaton, Elizabeth Fellers, Elizabeth Kaho, Susan Kemper, Mildred Thompson, Robert Knight, Dr. Ferdinand Rowe, and Frank Truesdell. Others who will appear in ensemble numbers are: Jeannette Barrett, Jennie Polino, Velma King, Coral Lunn, Mrs. Grace Olesby, Doris Parker, Leo Bernstein, Robert Duncan and Paul Stears.

Music from Italy, France, England, Germany, and the United States will be presented, and Miss Anderson will give a brief explanation of each group.

NAS BOOK PUBLISHED

The Omaha Council of Social Agencies, of which Dr. T. Earl Sullivan is chairman, has recently published the "Directory of Social and Welfare Agencies of Omaha". This book contains the names and locations of all welfare agencies in Omaha with a resume of their scope of activities, the means of their support, and their directors. Credit is given to the institutions to Dr. Sullivan and his students for the help they have rendered in compiling the information.

The book is made in loose leaf form so that corrections and additions and other information may be typed in. Dr. Sullivan is using it in his Child Welfare Clinic.

NO CHANGE IN NAME!

A referendum for the purpose of changing the name of the school paper has been taken through the medium of the fraternities, sororities, student council, senior class, etc., and the majority rule for the retention of the name Gateway.

The word Gateway seems to be very appropriate for this student publication, for the city of Omaha has long been termed the gateway to the west. As the university is now the Municipal University of Omaha, it is quite fitting that this paper be called The Gateway to city's university—the way to the student opinion of this institution.

"JAZZ MAY BE A CLASSIC," STATES ROXY; PAYROLL OF HIS GANG $30,000 A WEEK

"Come on in," greeted S. L. Roth, more familiarly known as Roxy, of radio fame, as he sat chatting with friends in his room at the Fontenelle hotel Monday afternoon, March 9. And right there you have one of Roxy's chief characteristics—friendliness.

"What do I think of jazz?" he questioned. "Well, jazz has its possibilities if done in good taste. It may bore you up; but it also may become vulgar. Jazz may be a classic as George Gershwin's 'Rhapsody in Blue.' Then, too, take 'Laugh, Clown, Laugh.' It is usually considered a jazz piece yet in the hands of Van (meaning Harold Van Duzee, one of his gang) it isn't."

Roxy said that the human element as by no means finished in music. "Canned" music will not supercede anything than canned food will; for there must be the human element he maintained.

"Showmanship is nothing more than applied psychology," he announced. "You are a psychologist or you are not one. For no one can teach psychology. It means simply to know exactly when to do something at the psychological moment. Your success in any line depends upon doing the thing at the exact moment. Take, for example, a football player, he is a good psychologist because he hits the line at a certain time."

"A good comedian or a good tragedian must be a good psychologist; for there is but a hair's breadth between a comedy and a tragedy; it is all a matter of the interpretation. Charlie Chaplin is one of the greatest living psychologists because he knows just at what moment to make people laugh."

A musician he classified as a showman, a psychologist, and a mathematician. He is like a mathematician in that the basic foundations are similar, but music, good

Campaign of City for Encouraging of Music

The Bureau for the Advancement of Music and the Allied Arts, a national organization with headquarters in Chicago, is co-operating with the Conservatory of Music in a city wide campaign for the encouragement of musical education. Two representatives are here, Messrs. W. E. Thiesens and G. C. Fullenwider who have crews working under them.

"Leading cities all over the country have had these drives, and within the last month canvasses have been completed in Lincoln, Hastings, and Grand Island," declared Prof. M. J. Logan, director of the Conservatory. "Outstanding musicians and schools have endorsed this work, and many requests have been made for a second and third campaign."

Results have been very promising so far, and Mr. Logan expects much better for the Conservatory. The work is open to college students on either a full or part time basis. Any one interested should consult Mr. Logan or the organization's representatives.

Dr. E. L. Smith conferred with members of the faculty on Monday, March 9, and again on Tuesday, March 10.

music, has added to it emotion—feeling.

The ordinary blues singers Roxy termed as "slush", adding that there are few artists. He mentioned as such, in addition to Charlie Chaplin, Ruth Chatterton, Helen Hayes, and Amos and Andy, whom he called the "Charlie Chaplins of the air." He expressed the opinion that he was fond of all artists, no matter what their line.

"My hobby," he exclaimed in his jovial manner, "it's golf. Whenever I can break par I'll give you the theater and all my business and go play golf."

Roxy made the statement that he can not read a note of music, yet the person in his gang that plays or sings out of tune had better "watch out."

This is the first extensive tour that Roxy and his entire gang of 79, including such notables as: Madame Schumann-Heink, Harold Van Duzee, Beatrice Belkin of the Metropolitan Opera company, Margaret Mickey McKee, Frank Moulan, comedian the Deane sisters from New Orleans, have made outside of New York state. Their Omaha appearance was under the auspices of the American Legion. This tour of the gang is being made possible by the National Broadcasting company for as Roxy put it, the payroll of his gang amounts to $30,000 a week.

Boeing School Offers Contest Scholarship

A number of University of Omaha students are evidencing interest in the nation-wide competition for aeronautical scholarships sponsored by the Boeing School of Aeronautical for college men intending to specialize in aviation.

The scholarships are: First, Boeing Master Pilot course, 204 hours flying and 924 hours ground school, value $5250; Second, and Third, Boeing Master Mechanic courses, 1224 hours ground school, value $875; Fourth, Boeing Private Pilot course, 22 hours flying, 45 hours ground school, value $500.

The Boeing School of Aeronautics, known as "the university of the air" and located at the Oakland Airport, Oakland, California, is approved by the U. S. Department of Commerce. It is affiliated with the Boeing Airplane Company and with Boeing System, which flies 4,000,000 miles a year with mail and passengers on the San Francisco-Oakland-Chicago and Seattle-San Diego routes.

Students who wish to compete are to write essays not exceeding 2,000 words on one of five aeronautical subjects. Details of the scholarship may be obtained from the Dean of College or from the Boeing School of Aeronautics, Oakland, California.

ABSTRACT PUBLISHED

Dr. T. Earl Sullivan, head of the Sociology department, has just received a letter from the Associate professor of Education at New York University stating that a review of the February Abstract Service Sheet which Dr. Sullivan sent him will be published in the May edition of the Journal of Educational Sociology. The sheet is published monthly by the students in Dr. Sullivan's class on the February issue dealing with literature in Omaha.

EIGHTY-TWO COURSES OF STUDY ARE TO BE OFFERED IN SUMMER SCHOOL

PALLADIANS DISBAND

At a meeting of the Palladian yesterday, it was voted to disband the present organization. The reasons for the recommendation of this action was because the officers felt that they were not accomplishing the true purpose of the organization.

With the acceptance of this motion, the way is opened for the formation of a new and more efficient type of association. According to Lorane Shonfelt, past president of the Palladians, there is to be a very important meeting of all the Barbs in the near future.

PAN-HELLENIC GIVES FLOUR TO POOR FOLKS

A half carload of flour will be turned over to the Red Cross for distribution among the needy families of southeast Missouri if the campaign of the Pan Hellenic Council of Missouri University is successful. Last Monday night the Pan-Hellenic representatives appealed to their chapters for a one dollar per member donation. From the favorable reports thus far, there will probably be $1000 raised from the donations of the Greek letter societies.

The Pan-Hellenic Council will be given an unusually good price on the flour, making the contribution of the Missouri University fraternity on which will take care of the bread situation for a great many destitute families.

Chemistry Club Secures Dr. Bauer as Speaker On Railroad Chemistry

The Chemistry Club was very fortunate in being able to secure Dr. Bauer, chief chemist for the Union Pacific, as a speaker at their meeting of March 11th.

Dr. Bauer spoke briefly on some of the many applications of chemistry to the methods of operating our great railroads. Many people wonder why a railroad needs a chemist and express great surprise when told of the great number of chemists engaged in railroad chemistry.

One of the major duties of a chemist in railroading deals with the simplest of chemical compounds, water. In order to have steam it is necessary to have water and here is where the chemist comes into the spotlight. It is his duty to remove impurities from the water so that it will not form a destructive coating of sediment on the inside of the boiler thus greatly shortening the life of the boiler.

Another duty of the chemist is the testing of the steel used in the working parts of the giant locomotives and also he is called upon to prepare new alloys that will stand the strain of the heavy service. Dr. Bauer also told of some incidents where the chemist saved the railroads a great deal of money in lawsuit cases.

Two Grade Honored

When the Alpha Omega Alpha were given out recently at Nebraska Medical College, two former Omaha University students were honored. Scott F. Hennings, professor of Biology, of the university was one of the recipients and Kenneth Mathews was the other. Both will be graduated for the medical college next June, after which Dr. Hennings will take up his duties as lecturer at the University General Hospital at San Francisco and Dr. Mathews will form a life service in private hospital at the University of California.

Both graduates played several years in the First Central Christian Church, Sunday, March 1.

To Be Divided Into Three Sessions

VARIETY OF SUBJECTS

Possible to Earn 12 Credits

Eighty-two courses of studies are to be offered in summer school, which will open Monday, June 1. There will be three sessions. The first consists of three weeks of five days a week; it opens June 1 and closes June 19. The second session covers five weeks of six days a week; it begins June 22 and continues until July 25. The third term will be for three weeks of five days; it starts July 27 and finishes August 14. Courses in science and mathematics will open June 15 and last until August 14; this will be a nine week course of five days a week.

According to Dr. W. Gilbert James, it would be possible to secure 12 credits by attending throughout the 12 weeks. However a student may enter any session and receive three, six, or three hours credit respectively.

The variety of studies to be offered include courses in art, commerce, English, history, kindergarten-primary education, mathematics, modern languages, music, philosophy, political science, pre-med, pre-engineering, psychology, science, and sociology.

In the language department beginning courses in French, German, and Spanish will be offered. By having classes for two and a half to three hours a day, five credits may be secured in these courses. The type of advance courses in languages will be determined by the demand.

"From the numerous inquiries being received," stated Dr. James, "it indicates that a large enrollment may be expected. Summer school gives a student an opportunity to clear up deficiencies and to work off requirements. It is open to all students that meet the university entrance standards."

Courses for the first time offered in summer school include the following: Rural School Problems, Methods in Rural School Subjects, Teaching of Social Studies, Survey of the English Novel, World's Tragic Dramas, Geography of Nebraska, Behaviorism in the light of science and philosophy, the American City, and Child Welfare.

The regular faculty will be supplemented by specialists to be announced later. Preliminary booklets announcing summer school are being mailed to schools in surrounding counties within a radius of 100 miles of Omaha. The regular bulletin will be off the press in about two or three weeks.

EXPRESSION CLASS MAKING SURVEYS

The students in the class of fundamental expression tested their voices on an expiratory and then listened to the reproduction. Thus they tested the quality of tone and intonation of their voices. These students are also making a survey of the voices they come in contact with, taking into consideration tone quality, strength of voice, steadiness, clarity, and articulation.

The survey of the public speaking voice will be made in December. According to Dr. W. Gilbert James, there are only two of the students that this class will be in the class.

CLASS TAKES TWO

Prof. L. G. Taylor, who is in charge of the expression class, has just received two more students. These are: Mrs. M. J. Logan, who is a member of the class, and Mrs. M. J. Logan, who is a member of the class.

Dr. Sullivan, who is in charge of the expression class, has just received two more students. These are: Mrs. M. J. Logan, who is a member of the class, and Mrs. M. J. Logan, who is a member of the class.

REASER AT ASSEMBLY

Entertainment for the Friday, March 12, assembly was supplied by Miss Grace Schenkerfeldt, dramatic reader. Miss Schenkerfeldt is an Omaha University student.

She read "Poor Little Cat," "The First Quiver," and a one act play "An Honest Man."

Cheeloo University, Tsinan Shantung, China.
Nov. 26, 1930.

Miss Evelyn Plouzek,
Omaha, Nebraska, U. S. A.
My dear Miss Plouzek:

Certainly, you are wondering who I am when you get this letter, so I will introduce myself at once. I am the girl who you help her is studying in Cheeloo University through Dr. Judd, and the girl whom you wanted to know. My Chinese name is Yao Tsi Hwei. My English name is Grace Yao. Of course Dr. Judd had been told you something about me, but I like to tell you something more.

After I graduated from the High School, I have been taught for one year and then I came out and studied in Gingling College for one and half year and I returned back home as taught for two years. During my teaching period I realize the great need of China, especially my native town is the highly educated teacher and doctor of medicine—especially girl teacher. At the same time, I also realize my obligation to society, especially to my native place. In order to meet this great obligation, I felt my knowledge is not enough. I have a desire to train myself to be a doctor or to continue my college work. Though my family could not support me, I strongly believe, "Where there is a will, there is a way." I believe our Heavenly Father will help those who go according to His will. Eventually you, my friend across the Pacific, are willing to help me. How I grateful to God! How am I thankful to you all!

Originally, I planned to come out last fall. Because the school needed me urgently and asked me to help them one term more, I came out last spring. I studied in the 1st year pre-medical in Cheeloo. I felt to adopt a profession is not merely because one's inclinations run in a certain groove, but to discover how can best make oneself useful in the future and in which direction one's taste inclined. After my long consideration by weighing carefully, I would like to qualify myself to be a teacher or a social worker. The reason is this: 1st, I have no back ground of science (in my high school has no science at all); I could only classify to be as the student of the 1st year pre-medical instead of a student of junior class in the Arts and Science College; 2nd, my native town needs girl teacher badly, since I came out there is no girl teacher besides my sister in law; 3rd, my health is not fit for study medicine; and last, my taste inclines arts more the science comparatively. So a transferred to the Arts and Science this term. I have written to Dr. Judd about this. Perhaps Dr. Judd had written you about this already. You help me directly, but you help China indirectly. As you have the aim of helping China, certainly you would like to help those who can really meet the China needs. So I believe you will continue to help me even though I transferred to the Arts and Science College. By connection of developing of science and convenience of communication, the world become smaller and smaller, and the bodies of men are brought closer and closer. But by Christianity, the Love of Jesus, the mind of people are brought together and willing to help each other. How I wish the world will become a family!

I am a junior and my major is Sociology, and my minor is Education and Biology. This term I am taking twenty credits and I also take piano. What class are you? what is your major?

Now let me tell you something about Cheeloo. Cheeloo is situated in the East Gate of Tsinan, at the foot of Chien Fo Shan (mountain), on the shores of Ta Ming Hu (lake). The Arts and Science and Theology Colleges are in the outside the Wei Tzu Man (City Wall). The medical College is in the inside of the Wei Tzu Man. It would take about eight minutes from Arts & Science College to Medical College. There are about three hundred boys and about fifty girls this term. Because Tsinan is the important city place, there are many southern students could not come. We have a very big campus which really like a public park. I hope you would like to come to China to help us sometime.

Dr. Judd told me that you are the president of Y. M. C. A. of your college. We have Y. W. C. A. too. Under the auspices of the F. O. R. we have organized an International Friendship Club with about forty members. An address on some international problem is given every two weeks. We have had five lectures up to date. The first was by Dr. Heeren, head of the History Department on "Some Facts of Past War History". 2nd lecture was by Dr. Kund Faber of the League of Nations. He represented the Health Section of the League and came to China at the invitation of the Nanking Government. He said that the main task of the League was to promote and maintain world peace. He discussed the League's Health work and China's need along these lines. Dr. Yu Tien Hsin, Head of our Sociology department gave two lectures, one on the "Problems of the Pacific" and the other on "Manchuria". Mr. S. Lantenslager gave the subject "On Socialism, Capitalism and Communism". I am one of the member of the committee. Do you have such a club? I am also one of the members of committee "Cheeloo-Christian Association". "Cheeloo English Monthly", "Chinese Weekly", I hope you will tell me something about your college. I'll tell you some other thing next time. Thank you again. Please give my warmest thanks and best regards to the student body.

Yours Sincerely
GRACE YAO.

Constitution Accepted By Large Majority

Passing the student body by a vote of 147 to 10, the Constitution of the Student Council is now in working order.

"The overwhelming majority makes the Student Council feel assured that the students realize the need of a stable governing organization," stated June Pickard, president of the Council.

The constitution was drawn up by John Roberts, Marian Benson, and Walford Mays.

DR. HUGHES HONORS SPEAKERS FOR FRIENDSHIP

At the meeting of March 4, the Promenade Club had a very interesting talk by Dr. Hughes, Honorary of Nebraska Medical College.

Dr. Hughes spoke on internal medicine. He gave a brief resume of his experience while a student at Omaha that just before the world war, mentioning the high academic rating of Omaha that students at Nebraska Medical College. Next Dr. Hughes mentioned some of the points in medicine and told his reasons for taking up the study of internal medicine. He told of the various methods of taking up specialization and the general problem that a doctor encounters in setting up practice.

Paul Martin Gives Plans of New Board At Recent Assembly

The student body's first introduction to members of the new Municipal board of regents came at the Friday, March 6, assembly. Mr. Paul Martin, one of the new members of the board, acted as spokesman for the regents.

"Our task is purely educational—there is nothing of political competition in our appointments. We receive no pay, working because we know that the Municipal University will be of great value to the city of Omaha. Our aim is to serve the community."

Mr. Martin named the regents on the new board, some of whom were on the former board of the Omaha University. In speaking of Dr. Sealock as the University's new president, Mr. Martin said, "Because our decision came so soon after the announcement that the school would be municipal does not mean that we were hasty in our choice of a president. We feel sure that we have chosen a man who will prove himself all that we believe him. Our search for a president has been long and intense. Now that he is chosen we shall certainly work with him. Dr. Sealock is a man who has been tried in difficult times, and proven that he can win out for a good cause."

Mr. Martin said of the faculty that it should be as high grade as the president. The man who did his work well and in good spirit should be needed and chosen. Of the campus, Mr. Martin said that would all be decided later. No plans for new buildings can be made until the budget is completed.

"The first thing we must plan for is to get this college accredited," explained the regent. "There should be no rivalry, only healthy competition, between Omaha and surrounding colleges. The college of Liberal Arts will come first in our plans for development. There must be many books in our library, and sufficient equipment to carry on the school in the best possible manner."

"You may be assured that after many men have put time and after the taxpayers of the City have put money into this institution, it will not be a good place for one to loaf, but a real college of learning and high caliber education," finished Mr. Martin.

The desire was expressed that both students and faculty would welcome members of the board of regents at any time.

R. Browne Receives Word About Poetry

Robert Browne, author of "Gesture", has received a letter from Jessie Rehder, editor of the New Anthology of College Verse which will be published the first of April. Miss Rehder writes in part, "I liked your poem—it had the quality of poetry and gave one the desire to reach out. Unless you had felt the desire you could not have written the poem."

The publication of the Anthology of College Verse is primarily a college project. Wide interest was shown in the poetry contest and over four thousand manuscripts were submitted. The publishers hope that the book, through competent college representatives, will gain wide enough interest to pay for its first publication.

Christopher Motley will write the critical introduction for the volume.

Sigma Tau Delta may consider handling the sale of the book in Omaha University.

Prof. M. J. Logan is organizing a group that will be known as the Conservatory of College Verse. Credit may be received for this work if a fee of one dollar is paid and one may use the verse without fee and without credit. Submissions are solicited for the first volume of $100.

The Conservatory has taken the department of drama and has received an endorsement from Mrs. Hargrove, president of Sigma Tau Delta.

On Wednesday, March 4, Prof. A. J. Dunlap delivered the address at the Promenade Club on the subject of "The Future of the University."

HASHHOUSE LYRICS

A girl I like
Is Welburn, Hope;
Ask her about Evans,
She'll give you the dope.

A man I like
Is Ottmann, Walt;
Anything he says
I take with salt.

A girl I like
Is Weber, Rose;
She's noted for
Her numerous beaux.

A guy I like
Is Patrick Quinn;
There is no place
Where he hasn't been.

A girl I like
Is Murphy, Pat;
It's an old Irish custom,
Oh! well! that's that!

A girl I like
Is Miss Hughes, Dot;
The papers say
X marks the spot.

A boy I like
Is Russel Baker;
His foolish ramblings
Remind me of undertaker.

A guy I like
Is Hall, Buddy;
Some folks say
His nose is putty.

A guy I like
Is Clancy L.;
His full name
Sounds like—nothing much.

A boy I like
Is Hays, Boot;
He's a little rascal
With a mug that's cute.

A guy I like
Is Wilson, Floyd;
Above the neck
He's null and void.

A guy I like
Is Thomas, Sam;
He won't drink beer
But he'll hold up the can.

A guy I like
Is Arthur, Bill;
With a long drink of water
You take a pill.

A guy I like
Is "Hoot" Huff;
He's big and hungry
And thinks he's tough.

A girl I like
Is Corbaley, Bunny;
The boys insist
That she's a honey.

A guy I like
Is Huff, Benny;
To him they ask
Are you getting any?

A bum I know
Is Evans, Hector;
From that beautiful flower
He took and nector.

A babe I like
Is Miss Peg Glee;
Her favorite pastime
Is saying "no."

A prof. I like
Is Dunlap, A. J.
I think in his day
He made—Hoy! Hoy!
